

Do you know a friend of WBS who is worthy of honor?

Please use the form on back.

In late 2014, Ruth Orr, of Lewisburg, Tennessee, passed on to receive her crown. Ruth was a humble, everyday Christian, yet she had an extraordinary passion for sharing Jesus with the world's lost. Thousands were brought to Christ through Ruth's love and commitment as a WBS study helper, coordinator and mentor.

To honor Ruth's legacy, the Ruth Orr Memorial Wall of Honor has been instituted at the WBS office in Cedar Park, Texas. It gives honor where honor is due to others who have shared Ruth's servant heart. It recognizes WBS coordinators and study helpers who have made a spiritual difference in the lives of others. The attractive wall displays a framed photograph and printed tribute for each honoree.

Individuals can sponsor a friend of WBS on the Wall of Honor with a tribute gift of $500 or more. By doing so you are saying "Thank you for your service and example." The generosity of your gift will also advance the WBS mission so cherished by your honoree: to fulfill the Great Commission.

Churches can also use the Wall of Honor as an appropriate way to duly recognize your unsung WBS heroes, both past and present.

Tribute gifts for the Wall of Honor will be dedicated specifically to equipping WBS study helpers to teach more, and teach more effectively.

See the back of this page for a Wall of Honor submission form.
